London Reports Far-Reaching War Plans Of The Allied Nations Are Taking Shape

OPEN REVOLT S SPREADING IN MARSEILLE

prising in France, Crisis In Africa and Defeat in Russia Confronting Axis Satellites

ROMMEL IN TUNISIA

BY ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
A flame of open revolt in France, crisis in North Africa and ever blackening defeat in Russia formed the composite picture confronting Adolf Hitler and his satellites in World War II today.

At the same time, the behind-the-scenes atmosphere was rife with signs of momentous events in the making in the part of United Nations leaders, perhaps leading the way for the long-awaited invasion of Hitler's "European fortress" in the coming weeks or months.

Censored dispatches from London said far-reaching war plans of the Allied Nations were taking shape, and reported that as one phase of the talks an agreement over the North African political quagmire had been reached by Gen. Charles De Gaulle and Gen. Henri Giraud following mediation by the United States and Britain.

Details of the agreement were not immediately disclosed. In France, the pro-Nazi Vichy government proclaimed a state of siege in ancient Marseille, France's second largest city, after Swiss reports told of angry Frenchmen fortifying their homes and firing in German soldiers attempting to vacate the city's port district.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Switzerland said the Germans had brought up artillery to shell the revolting Frenchmen into submission and declared house-to-house fighting was in progress.

DNE, official German news agency, said 40,000 persons had been arrested in the city.

Nazi occupation authorities ordered the evacuation and razing of the Marseille port district apparently as part of a defense measure against possible Allied invasion from North Africa.

On the northern shores of the ark continent, the Axis faced harping pressure from both sides as the victorious British 8th army swept on past Tripoli, en route to Tunisia.

A bulletin from British headquarters said Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th army scored a gains yesterday in pursuit of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's forces and occupied the town of Zauia 30 miles west of Tripoli.

While the bulk of Rommel's legions apparently had retreated into (Turn to Page Seven)

VETERAN CHARACTER ACTOR IS SUICIDE

Hollywood, Jan. 26.—(P)—Spencer Charters, veteran stage and screen character actor and a native of Duncannon, Pa., died yesterday after inhaling carbon monoxide gas from the idling motor of his car, the coroner reported.

The report said a contributing cause was an overdose of sleeping pills.

Charters, whose wife died a year ago, had been in ill health, police said. His body was found by his nine-year-old daughter, Irene.

Citizens of Tripoli Show Gratitude For Liberation

BY DON WHITEHEAD AND GEORGE TUCKER
Tripoli, Jan. 23.—(Delayed)—(P)—Seeing people liberated from virtual bondage and watching their emotional outbursts form the most graphic impressions we have of the occupation of Tripoli.

Only a few hours ago British troops and advance units of the royal Air Force rolled into this city and the official surrender to General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery wrote the last chapter in the all of Mussolini's African empire.

Bill Proposes That Local Activities Be Financed by State

DRIVE TO CUT TAXES

Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—(P)—The Pennsylvania legislature was asked today to appropriate $1,000,000 to finance local civilian defense activities.

A bill introduced by Senators Joseph M. Barry (D-Allentown) and Elmer J. Holland (D-Allentown) would appropriate the fund to the State Defense Council for distribution to cities, towns and boroughs.

DeGaulle And Giraud Reach An Agreement

London, Jan. 26.—(P)—General Charles De Gaulle, Fighting leader, and General Henri Honoré Giraud, high commissioner in French North Africa, were reported today to have reached an agreement as a result of mediation by the United States and Britain.

Talks were understood to be part of far-reaching war-winning plans of the Allied Nations.

Military leaders of the United States and Britain, it was reported, played a part in the talks.

Fighting French sources here had maintained for weeks that any disagreements could be quickly ironed out if representatives of the two French factions met.

Some threw themselves at our feet, offering gifts of not only wine and tobacco but money as well.

lend-Lease Bill Offered

Washington, Jan. 26.—(P)—A bill to continue the administration's lend-lease authority for another year was introduced today by Chairman Bloom (D-NY) of the house foreign affairs committee as especially needed now "when the United Nations are on the march to victory."

In a statement accompanying the bill, Bloom declared that "now that the nation is at war, I know that there will be few among us who will question the wisdom" of the lend-lease act.

RALLYING CRY SOUNDED BY RED PREMIER

Spurred by Order of Day Issued by Stalin Soviets Push Battle Lines In Two Fronts

200,000 NAZIS TAKEN

BY EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Jan. 26.—(P)—Urged on by an order of the day in which Premier Stalin for the first time signed himself supreme commander of the Red army, Russia's fighting forces pushed their battle lines ahead in the Ukraine and the Caucasus today and battled against growing German resistance in the lower Don approaches to Rostov.

"Forward for the routing of the German invaders and their expulsion over the boundaries of our motherland," was the premier's rallying cry.

It was recalled that his words "not a step backwards" rang out over the defenses of Stalingrad in its darkest hour last fall, and from that time on the defenses of the battered city braced and held.

The premier's praise of his troops, commanders and workers was contained in an order of the day, broadcast by the Moscow radio at a time when Russia's armies were forging ahead on every front from Leningrad to the Caucasus.

Stalin declared that the Red army had driven forward 245 miles in two months of their second winter offensive, routing 102 enemy divisions and capturing 200,000 prisoners.

"Our troops have won an important victory," he said, and he added: "The offensive of our troops continues."

It may be hard to realize outside the Soviet Union what effect a pronouncement of Stalin has. It sweeps over this vast country by radio and newspapers and spreads through cities by word of mouth.

His order of the day followed special and regular communiques which reported the recapture of all of Voronezh from the Germans who had held a western section of the city since the summer of 1942, and which announced new gains in the Caucasus and the drive south. (Turn to Page Eight)

Flynn Gives Up Dem. Job

Washington, Jan. 26.—(P)—Frank C. Walker, chairman of the Democratic national committee, today accepted the resignation of Edward J. Flynn as national committeeman from New York, saying Flynn could not give adequate attention to that job while serving as minister to Australia.

The resignation is expected to strengthen somewhat Flynn's support among Democratic senators for confirmation of his diplomatic nomination, although sizeable opposition still exists.

Reactions To Message Are Conflicting

Some Recommendations of State Executive Draw Dem. Opposition

IS SUPPORTED BY BELL

Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—(P)—Governor Martin's message to the general assembly recommending return of unemployment relief to the counties brought immediate conflicting reactions from Republican and Democratic legislators.

Democrats, who set up the present Department of Public Assistance in the administration of former Governor George H. Earle, opposed the recommendation while Republicans agreed with the governor on decentralizing the relief problem.

"I strongly favor decentralization of relief since the people in each community know far better who is entitled to relief than some bureaucratic organization in a distant city possibly could and because it would prove much more economical," said Republican Lieutenant Governor John C. Bell, Jr.

On the Democratic side, Senator Harry Shapiro, of Philadelphia, disagreed with Martin's relief program but said the executive's address was "a pleasant relief."

There was no further comment immediately available from the rubber director, who was reported busy in conferences.

Jeffers has been contending that he needs high priority on materials to get his synthetic rubber program going and that the armed services stand in his way with their demands.

Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production Board told a senate agriculture sub-committee he had given "full cooperation" to Jeffers, but "we can't put one pro (Turn to Page Seven)

COMMITTEE TO HEAR SHROYER AND RAMAGE

Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—(P)—Two unconfirmed members of Governor Martin's cabinet were called before a senate committee today to give senate Democrats, who have blocked their confirmation, an opportunity to examine their qualifications.

Senator G. Harold Watkins (R-Schuylkill), committee chairman, said the meeting would be held as soon as John U. Shroyer, Northumberland county manufacturer, and Samuel Y. Ramage, III, Vantage county hotel and oil man, could reach Harrisburg.

Shroyer was appointed secretary of highways and Ramage was Martin's choice for public assistance secretary.

ONE SURVIVES BOMBER CRASH NEAR COLUMBUS

Columbus, O., Jan. 26.—(P)—The lone survivor of an army bomber crash that killed 11 crew members was given "an even chance to pull through" today as an investigation board pressed an inquiry into the cause of an explosion which sent the plane down in flames at nearby New Albany yesterday.

The survivor, Sgt. James H. Foldes, 23, of Superior, Wis., was in critical condition in a local (Grant) hospital, but Dr. J. E. Briggs said he had "an even chance to pull through."

The four-motored training bomber was enroute from Hendricks Field, Sebring, Fla., to nearby Lockbourne air base.

REMARKS OF RUBBER CZAR STIR CAPITAL

Statement Made by Jeffers At Baltimore to Be Subject of House Investigation

SERIOUS ACCUSATION

Washington, Jan. 26.—(P)—An investigation into Rubber Administrator William Jeffers' charges that "the army and navy loafers" were interfering with war production was ordered today by the house naval committee.

The action was taken at the request of Czarman Vinson (D-Ga) after he read to the committee a newspaper story of Jeffers' remarks before the council of state governors at Baltimore yesterday.

It was up to President Roosevelt today to call the winner in the sharp skirmishing between Jeffers and the armed services on whether Jeffers should get the over-riding priority go-ahead he demands for his synthetic rubber program.

There was some question whether Jeffers had spoken of "the army and navy loafers" or of "the army and navy loafers."

His secretary, asked by reporters to ask him what his exact words were, later informed them that he said he spoke of "army and navy loafers."

There was no further comment immediately available from the rubber director, who was reported busy in conferences.

Legislation To Prohibit Wasting Cans

Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—(P)—Fines for stealing food from victory gardens and for wasting empty tin cans are provided in new house bills aimed at helping Pennsylvania's war effort.

War-minded law-makers pushed total bills introduced in the lower chamber to more than 100 last night, turning the legislative spotlight on protection of the home front and its defense workers.

A fine of $500 or one year in jail or both would be levied against anyone caught stealing from victory gardens under a measure presented by Samuel Rose (D-Philadelphia).

Earl Chudoff (D-Philadelphia) proposed in another measure that local defense councils set up containers for cleaned and processed empty tin cans, providing a fine of $25 for anyone disposing of cans "in any other manner."

Two bills would make the state responsible for auxiliary policemen and firemen and air raid wardens injured or killed while on duty. They were presented by Robert K. Hamilton (D-Beaver) and T. A. Freed (R-Lehigh).

Some bills, however, veered away from war such as one by F. J. Tiemann (R-Philadelphia) which would legalize bingo games for religious, charitable, war veteran or labor groups on payment of $3 for a permit.

The executive gave the legislature a broad recommendation to "eliminate as much government as possible," both in the state and local units "in order that all possible manpower may be used in winning the war."

The assistance department proposed to be abolished was established in 1935 during the Democratic Administration. Prior to that relief had been in charge of the state emergency relief board.

In another major recommendation, Martin urged immediate consideration of "a fair and equitable

"Public assistance has not only been very expensive," Martin said in his first message to the general assembly since his inauguration a week ago, "it has had a tendency to wreck the morale of our people."

"It is suggested that this function be returned to the counties, with the state making a large contribution to the counties to assist them in taking care of those not employed. The state should retain a degree of supervision over the expenditure of these contributions."

Executive Pleads For Cooperation to Speed Production

Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—(P)—Governor Martin today asked the legislature to return unemployment relief to the counties, with the state making "a large contribution" to the cost, now running $6,250,000 monthly. The federal government provides $2,000,000 of that total.

After personally presenting a series of legislative recommendations to a joint session of the general assembly, the new chief executive pleaded with the lawmakers for co-operation to speed up war production.

"I'm asking all of you men and women to help me in that job," declared the retired army major general. "We will co-operate and do everything we can to assist the commander-in-chief to bring a speedy end to this terrible war."

Declaring "we've got to speed up production," the governor asserted "more than 25 per cent of actual war items come from Pennsylvania."

"When you go home," he told the legislators, speaking extemporaneously, "let's give our people this story. I know Americans will respond when they know the situation."

Martin said there would be no "must" legislation for the assembly, "but I do ask for co-operation." He added "I'll co-operate with you in every possible way."

He urged lawmakers to confer with him or his cabinet "when any of you have any thoughts that might improve Pennsylvania's war effort."

"There is only one thing now," continued the governor. "That's to save as many men in our armed forces as it is possible to do. Regardless of restrictions on food, clothing, and other necessities, our contribution on the home front is so insignificant to what the boys in the front line are giving."

In connection with increased production, Martin declared "we've got to increase building ships. Our enemies now are sinking ships as rapidly as we build them. We can't win the war until we stop the ravages of submarines."

The governor received a big ovation after his 20-minute prepared address outlining legislative recommendations. Another outburst followed his plea for co-operation in the war effort.

The house chamber was filled with lawmakers and guests for the occasion.

Governor Martin called for transfer of the Department of Public Assistance to the Welfare Department and at the same time urged the appropriations committees of both the senate and house in advance of the commonwealth's budget for the next two years, due in February, to "start work at once in order that they may determine where savings may be made in the various departments."

"Public assistance has not only been very expensive," Martin said in his first message to the general assembly since his inauguration a week ago, "it has had a tendency to wreck the morale of our people."

In another major recommendation, Martin urged immediate consideration of "a fair and equitable

"Public assistance has not only been very expensive," Martin said in his first message to the general assembly since his inauguration a week ago, "it has had a tendency to wreck the morale of our people."

"Legislation to safeguard and preserve the family unit is necessary at this time when juvenile delinquencies will tend to increase under the anti-social pressure of war."

"The enrollment in our state teachers' colleges during the last year has decreased from 7,116 to 5,710. We should have legislation permitting wider use of these colleges for the war effort and for vocational training."

"Our health department should be strengthened in order to be able to meet any wartime or post-war emergency."

"We should face the future with courage, with faith in ourselves and our institutions and with deep conviction that right finally will triumph in this world-wide struggle for human liberty."

Highlights of First Message Delivered By New Executive

Harrisburg, Jan. 26.—(P)—Highlights of Governor Martin's first message to the Pennsylvania general assembly:

"Our forefathers were profoundly wise in giving us three branches of government—the legislative, the executive and the judicial. Every function of government must act independently of the others."

"In order that all possible manpower may be used in winning the war, we must eliminate as much government as possible."

"Pennsylvania is doing more war work than any other state in the union and must do still more."

"A post-war planning commission, with broad powers, should be established and start its work immediately."

"Surpluses should be maintained in our funds with which to start work on these plans immediately after the close of the war. To meet this end, every possible economy must be practiced."

Airport Personnel Proud Of Record Made By Its Trainees

Flying activity has been slowed down for the past month at the local airport due to bad weather. However, a few of the students got in some time in spite of weather and field conditions. The last instructor class was completed two days before the high water so there was no holdup in the government training program. Another class of five has been enlisted and ready to start work. However as yet they have had no word to start due to changes being made in the setup for such training.

From information received from and about different boys that have received their elementary training at Warren, most of them are making a good showing for themselves in the different branches of the armed forces, also in the war training service branch CAA. There are so many boys that have gone through elementary training at the Warren airport that it would be hard to mention all of them and their whereabouts but the great majority of them that trained here are in the Army or Navy Air Corps and all the way from Africa to Honolulu.

One boy that has been heard from recently is William J. Swanson, of Pleasant township. Bill learned to fly about six years ago. He then enlisted as an apprentice seaman, went through the machine school at Norfolk and went to sea as a third class petty officer. Little has been heard of him or his travels until the other day word was received that he has graduated out of Pensacola, Fla., school with a set of wings, (Naval Aviation Pilot). He is flying all types of both land and sea planes. He is stationed at Jacksonville Naval Airbase on ferry duty and well on his second hitch.

Another one of our CPT trained boys is Marshall Johnston. "Mush" completed his elementary and secondary CPT training and then was drafted, finally ended up in armament school. Then he got a break and is now at Santa Anna, Cal., for flight training.

Still another case of going through the hard way is that of Harold Good, of Bradford, one of the airport's CPT graduates. He found himself drafted before he could get into any flying school and entered the Army as a private. However he took opportunities as they came and is now a staff sergeant glider pilot.

Of course, in order to do justice in writing about the boys it would take days and a lot of thought as reports are heard from the fellows as they are in different places; some are glider pilots, some bomber pilots, some pursuit and others officers in other branches; some are non-coms, mechanics and others are going to

CAA advanced war training school. All of them are doing a good job and are getting places all of which we, the personnel of the airport, are very proud to have been of assistance in giving these boys their start. All know that the town is proud to have an airport where the boys can get their initial start in flying for Uncle Sam.

Schoolmen Will Discuss War Program

Thursday, January 28 at the Edinboro State Teachers College an area conference of schoolmen will be held to discuss the adjusting of public schools to the world at war. Every county in this section will have representatives and it is expected that about a dozen from this county will be present. This number will include Superintendent of Schools H. L. Blair and the heads of the High Schools of the county.

On the morning program Floyd M. Bathurst, principal of the Warren High School will discuss the Victory Corps Program. The program is being put into effect in the Warren schools at the present time.

County Superintendent of Schools H. L. Blair will act as chairman of the afternoon session at which papers will be given by a number of instructors from Crawford, Erie, Mercer, and other counties.

Following the area meetings there will be a series of meetings in every county at which the program will be outlined and reports made of the projects to be taken up.

The map was designed and painted by George Geracimos and Elton Davis. It is used by Chief of Police George Haehn in instructing the auxiliary police as to the street lay-out of the city, the location of the various industries, etc. Every industry in the city is shown and the map is the most comprehensive thing of the kind ever designed in the city. By its use, the auxiliary police have become familiarized with the location of all essential services that are to be reached and guarded in event of any emergency befalling the town.

Maj. Blomquist Plan Airborne Army Moves

Several weeks ago, a government bomber plane arrived at the Warren airport, including among its passengers a young man, Maj. Robert Blomquist. Major Blomquist, known to his friends as "Pete", is the son of the late Albert Blomquist, and Jane Olsen Blomquist. He was born in North Warren, his parents moving to Jamestown several years later. He was graduated from the Jamestown schools. His higher education included a year at Syracuse University, where he was a member of the rowing crew under coach Jim Ten Eyck, who was his personal friend. The next four years were spent at the University of Michigan, from where he was graduated in Aeronautical Engineering and Transportation.

Major Blomquist was associated first with the United Air Lines, then with Eastern Air Lines, later becoming Air Port Engineer for the company whose famous president is Captain Eddie Rickenbacker. He has flown all over the United States, covering hundreds of thousands of miles. Lecturing and writing are an important part of his activities, his most important work being his book, "Practices in Air Transportation", which is used as a text in several colleges. Last August he was "borrowed" by the Public Roads Administration, spending some time in Alaska locating flight strips and sites.

This work took him into wild sections that few white persons have ever seen. At this time he was also doing consulting engineering for the Army Air Force.

In October 1942 he went into service and is now engaged in engineering work in connection with our air-borne army.

TEN STRONGHOLDS TO KNOCK OUT
This is the line Russia must crack to start chasing the Germans on the road back to Berlin. Last winter's campaign failed to retake any of the Nazi strong points, but now Soviet pressure threatens to crumble the German line in the Kursk-Kharkov-Rostov region. Behind the front now being hit by the Red Army are other Nazi strongholds that may be as difficult to seize, and Germany is reported to have heavily fortified the mid-Poland line.

Local Wood Being Used In Many Ways

The local defense unit which has been called the Pennsylvania Defense Reserve Corps Auxiliary, now is to be designated the Pennsylvania State Guard Reserve, according to instructions which have been sent out from the Department of Military Affairs in Harrisburg.

The change, it was learned, changes the status of the local organization headed by C. D. Cannon, as captain, L. E. Lindser as first lieutenant and James V. Scallise as second lieutenant and Warren Childs as first sergeant, from a passive to an active one.

The members of the local unit received instructions not to affiliate themselves with any civilian defense unit, such as air raid wardens, special police and similar bodies.

In a local war emergency the State Guard Reserve expects first to be called out, according to one of the officers. Although personnel could be ordered anywhere it ordinarily would be limited to the county.

The Guard Reserve will remain under the jurisdiction of the Third Corps Area officers. The unit armed with the members own rifles meets Sunday, February 7 at 9 a. m. and Friday, February 19 at 7:30 p. m.

New Plant to Raise Output of Aviation Gasoline

Huge increases in the nation's output of 100 octane aviation gasoline, synthetic rubber and explosives will be made possible by plants similar to this new fluid catalytic cracking plant which the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey formally opened this week. Right: a close-up of the nerve center, or control room, which controls the operation of this unit. This plant is, in effect, an assembly line in reverse, which breaks down petroleum into its many components, separates them into various combinations and then reassembles these combinations to form a wide variety of products. This is one of many similar units now being built to permit us to meet the demand for high octane aviation gasoline, and to supply raw materials for synthetic rubber and TNT.

Friends may call at the family home at any time. Funeral arrangements have not been completed and will be announced later.

HIKING CLUB RECORDS

One of the best tributes to the recreational advantages of this community is the record of the Allegheny Hiking Club. And especially under present conditions, this group shows the way to a simple method of enjoyment, and also keeping fit in health and vitality essential for wartime work.

With its 100th different hike Sunday afternoon, and the dinner at the Carver House following it, attended by 54 persons, the Allegheny Hiking Club celebrated the achievement of one of its objectives. This was to show the healthful recreation and interesting experiences which can be found in our own vicinity, at little or no cost, as well as the many opportunities for such varied trips in this locality.

The hiking club was organized in October 1939, and meets each Sunday afternoon from September until June, usually driving to some point several miles from town, and then walking from five to nine miles over the hills and valleys of the area selected. With recent restrictions on the use of cars, the hikers have started from the regular meeting place at General Joseph Warren Park.

Some interesting records kept by leaders show that: there has been an average attendance of 21 persons for the 100 trips; more than 300 persons have gone one time or more; adding together the number of persons on each trip, there have been 2188 "hike-persons"; the hikes have averaged a little over six miles in length; the total distance walked has been over 600 miles; and the hikers have visited nearly every section of Warren county, with a few journeys into adjacent Forests, Elk, and McKean counties.

This will be best evidenced by a map now being prepared, with all the hikes numbered and drawn accurately as to location and distance. The smallest number on any trip was five, when the club was organized, and the largest was 76, when the Buffalo Hiking Club were guests of the local group. Ages range from Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts to men and women in their fifties and sixties, and a few who have passed "three score and ten" and are still "going strong." And all sorts of business and professional occupations are represented.

Altogether, the Allegheny Hiking Club is to be congratulated for exploring the paths of greatest enjoyment in the natural advantages of woods and fields, the hills and valleys of our own Warren County and the Allegheny National Forest.

RATIONING OF CANNED GOODS

If your supply of canned goods does not exceed ten cans for each member of your family you probably will not be deprived of any coupons when rationing of canned goods starts about March first.

According to a dispatch from Washington today this probable limit—it may be trimmed down to eight or nine a person—has been adopted tentatively by the Office of Price Administration, to discourage hoarding. Cans containing less than eight ounces will not be counted, although both size and contents will count on rationed purchases.

On dates yet to be fixed, depending on the speed of printing and distributing books, instructions and other forms, one adult from every family will go to a registration place with two things—the family's No. one ration book (the ones used for sugar and coffee) and a total of how many cans of fruits or vegetables (excluding home-canned) the family owns. It will not be necessary to list each can separately—just the total.

When he shows his No. one books, a clerk will pencil an "X" across stamp No. 19 in each book as a sort of receipt for book No. two which will then be handed out, one for each member of the family. The family will retain the No. one books, too.

Before handing out No. two books, however, the clerk will tear out coupons in accordance with the penalty.

Simple isn't it, considering the fact that if a person is found misrepresenting the supply of canned goods, he may face a stiff fine and possible imprisonment!

Every person will not be in a position to aid the Philomel club's project of collecting classical and semi-classical records for use in recreation center concerts for men in service, but there must be many of them available among Times-Mirror readers. Collection points are the clubhouse and the Metzger-Wright store. If you have any such records you will be doing a great favor to those in the armed forces as well as the Philomel club by turning them in as early as possible.

Washington in Wartime

(Second Of Three Articles On The Pay-As-You-Go Income Tax Plan.)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—There is nothing complicated about the Capper-Carlson pay-as-you-go tax bill.

In its present stage it is merely a proposal and even before it reaches the floor of the House or Senate undoubtedly will have many revisions, some of which might complicate it.

At present, however, it is simply this. Instead of paying your 1942 income tax on the return blanks now released, you will fill out this return as usual and that will be your "yardstick" for making payments (nine of them starting March 15). There would be no change in the income tax rates, the Victory tax or anything else. Then next year, when you made out your 1943 "return," you would balance off your "tentative payments" either by paying into the Treasury any deficiency or receiving from the Treasury any surplus existing because of the difference between what income you computed your tentative tax on and what you actually earned.

At the same time, you would be computing the basis for your tentative payments in 1944.

IF YOU know or have reason to believe that your income will change during the year, this can be provided for simply by explaining and estimating your income for the current year.

If your marital status changes during the year or your dependents increase or decrease, you report to your collector of internal revenue, make out a revised income report and from that time start paying on the new basis.

If you die during the year, your income tax liability is paid in full (there could be a fraction of a month's payments due) and there is no drain on your estate. If you lose your job or are demoted, your payments immediately shrink in proportion. If your crops fail, your sheep run over a cliff, or your cattle die in a drought, you can get immediate relief from income tax burdens.

If you get a job for the first time in your life, you go to your collector, state your prospective income and start paying.

AS POINTED out before, the Capper-Carlson bill is in committee and what changes will be made in it before it reaches the floor are problematical.

Some Congressmen think that much of the enthusiasm for it arises from the misconception that taxes for 1942 would be forgiven and forgotten and that no one would have to pay again until 1944.

This, of course, isn't the case. The tax bill has to be paid. The only question is whether it will be computed on last year's income or on the income you're earning now.

Kenny Treatment Is Demonstrated

Although the Kenny method was a matter of pronounced skepticism until three years ago, its amazing results since have won the endorsement of the American medical profession. After a thirty-year struggle for recognition the Australian nurse came to this country in 1940 and through funds provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis she was established at the University of Minnesota. Further study at the Minneapolis General and University of Minnesota Hospitals was made possible by the Foundation and has enabled scientists throughout the nation to carry on extensive research into the subject.

The Kenny method of treatment consists of the use of hot applications plus a highly specialized method of restoring weakened muscles to their normal use. It does away with splints and plaster casts. It is by no means a cure. It is, however, a tremendous step forward in the treatment of the disease, and in many cases eliminates painful and crippling after-effects.

Legislature Asked to Provide Million For Civilian Defense

Industries located in the area involved.

The local defense appropriation measure topped legislative action before the senate and house met in joint session to receive from Governor Edward Martin personally his first legislative recommendations since his inauguration.

While Martin completed his message, the Democratic minority started a drive in the house to write off an estimated $15,000,000 in 1942 taxes by proposing repeal of the four-mill state personal property levy.

Rep. Reuben E. Cohen of Philadelphia, offering a bill to carry out the plan in line with the party's campaign pledge to seek a $100,000,000 tax slash, said the measure would eliminate the calendar year 1943 from the personal property act "and automatically repeals 1942 taxes" due February 15.

Senator E. B. McGinnis of Allegheny, Democratic floor leader, announced after a party caucus last night that "we are not ready to act" on confirmation of Relief Secretary Samuel Y. Ramage, III, Oil City, and Highways Secretary John Y. Shroyer, Shamokin.

Senator John J. Haluska (D-Cambria) served notice on the senate today that "if and when the names (Shroyer and Ramage) are brought out, it's my duty to vote for their confirmation."

"If these men are not fit to serve, the blame is on the present governor," Haluska added. "If they are, the credit likewise goes to the governor."

mission, a major objective of the new administration, Governor Martin said, should start to work immediately.

"We wish to aid in taking care of the disabled soldiers and the widows and orphans of our veterans," he told a joint meeting of the senate and house. "We want to bring into Pennsylvania industries to help do work that has been brought about or created by the hard necessities and lessons of war."

"Every war has brought new things, new methods, new materials into existence. Pennsylvania wants to be able to take advantage of the post-war situation."

The commission, Governor Martin said, "must also consider the question of post-war employment in private industries."

"It will undertake to offer a program for the anthracite coal and bituminous coal areas intended to maintain employment and to retain fuel markets revived or expanded by the emergency of war."

Additional recommendations included: Erection of a memorial building in Harrisburg to house veterans' activities; greater latitude given the department of banking concerning frequency of examinations; strengthening laws to reduce the accident rate in industry; elimination of duplicated and unnecessary inspections in both industry and agriculture.

act would expire June 30, 1943, unless renewed, and added "the congress was foresighted in 1941 in anticipating the necessity of lend-lease aid to the countries opposing Axis aggression. What was not so obvious then is crystal clear now."

Proponents of a senatorial investigation into lend-lease shipments to the Allies indicated today that they would seek an inquiry into the administration of this aid, without asking that it be curtailed.

Zonta Club Will Stage Tag Day Saturday

During this month of January a nation engrossed in a global war is turning its attention for a time to another struggle and, while the country's fighting men march on many fronts, the men, women and children at home are asked to participate in another "march"—the tenth annual March of Dimes and Dollars to aid in the war on infantile paralysis.

In Warren, this march will be led by the women of the Zonta Club, whose full membership is marshaling forces for a "tag day" on Saturday of this week, birthday anniversary of President Roosevelt.

Warren's fund-raising campaign is part of a nationwide drive conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in the country's 3,070 counties and its six possessions under the slogan "Tomorrow's America will be as strong as today's children."

More than 20,000,000 individual small gifts comprised the total in the 1942 appeal against polio, according to Peter Cusack, executive secretary of the national organization, and the March of Dimes and Dollars totaled more than $3,000,000 in last January's drive, indicating that the fight against the children's enemy on the home front is being waged by the whole people and not by a few who make large donations.

There are some large donations each year but most of the money comes in small sums—in envelopes sealed by the generous, grimy little hands of children and in the official containers used by the National Foundation in its campaign which culminates in the nationwide celebration of the President's birthday on January 30.

The foundation has 2,900 county chapters in this country and its possessions and each county retains half the amount of money raised in its locality for use in aiding infantile paralysis victims of all ages, color, race and creed. The rest of the money is disbursed by the National Foundation in grants for research, help in epidemics and in sponsoring special training for doctors and nurses as in the case of the University of Minnesota where the famous Sister Kenny method is being taught. The Zonta Club Tag Day on Saturday will provide an opportunity for every member of this community to lend a hand and a dime to this important project.

The Russians reported the capture of Belaya Glinka, 40 miles from the Tikhoretsk rail junction which is 90 miles south of Rostov. The Germans were said to be tightening the defenses and resisting fiercely as the Russians squeezed in on Rostov from this section of the North Caucasus, down the Don from the east, and down the all line across the Donets bend north.

Hitler's high command reported that the Red army's assaults were increasing in violence on a wide part of the long battlefield, and Berlin newspapers again warned German people that the war had taken a dangerous turn.
Field dispatches said Red army spearheads were now aimed at Rostov from points 56 miles to the east and 70 miles to the north.

Lloyd Child who has been chief test pilot for the Curtiss Company. Child attained fame by flying 575 miles an hour in a Curtiss Hawk 75.

CAN'T BEAT TITUSVILLE

When the Times-Mirror reported a whole flock of robins at Rogerstown the editor thought he had set a record for things springlike but now comes the Titusville Herald with a snake story right at the tail end of January. The Herald reports a 17 inch snake on the lawn of Fred Becker, 615 East Walnut street. It wasn't very frisky but was a snake nevertheless. Must be the Titusville State Store has better stuff than we can get here.

TEACHER LEAVES

Miss Mildred Donaldson, for the past 15 years a teacher in the Tidoute high and grade schools, left Monday for Cochranton, where she has taken up her new duties as English instructor in the high school. Displaying marked ability and sterling worth, she will be greatly missed in both the school and community. Last Friday, the Tidoute faculty honored her with a farewell tea and her pupils presented her with a lovely gift. The entire community extends best wishes for her future success.

CONFERENCE AT BRADFORD

A conference of Red Cross officials of northwestern Pennsylvania was held in Bradford yesterday and plans were laid for the coming war fund campaign in March. W. W. Jefferson, director of the eastern area, presided and other national officers were present. Cray, chairman, represented the Warren county chapter.

COLLECTING RECORDS

Cooperating with Records for the Armed Forces, Inc., the Philomel Club is asking its members and friends to cooperate in a collection of classical and semi-classical records to be sent direct to recreation centers of the country's armed forces. The club is asking everyone to sacrifice at least one good record for this patriotic cause.

TIRES STILL SHIPPED

Shipments of tires into the warehouse at Buffalo operated by the United States Tire Corporation are still going in almost every day. In all over 4600 tires have been shipped from this city along with 122 tubes. All tires over five for each car must be sent in and those who receive tires must ship in their old tires unless they are so far past any possible re-reading as to be junk. Four tires were shipped in on Saturday, and two yesterday. Dealers who had a large stock of second hand tires that were not shipped in under the original program of claiming all tires by the government will soon have Uncle Sam taking over their stocks under a new program which is being set up and which will be announced soon.

WHISKEY IS SCARCE

Warren's State Store shelves have been decidedly bare of any of the popular priced liquors for some time. A few of the more expensive brands were offered for sale but the medium priced whiskeys were just not there. Wines in the gallon size were also exhausted and only half gallons were obtainable. This condition has caused a rule to be posted by which not more than one bottle can be purchased. Not only the Warren store but all stores in this section are suffering from a whiskey famine. In several of the states the one bottle rule has been in effect for some time and in spite of that their whiskey supplies are also low. Turning the distilleries over to the manufacture of alcohol seems to have caused the shortage despite the assurance that the distilleries had large supplies on hand.

Local Store Introduces Line Recalling Apothecary Shops

The old apothecary shop, predecessor of the modern pharmacy, has returned to Warren. Perhaps it's "escapist retailing", and perhaps it's an indication that many things allied with our colonial period have yet to be improved upon. At any rate, Metzger-Wright's is this week introducing a new line of toiletries in containers which are replicas of those found in the old apothecary shop of the 1700's.

The oldest apothecary shop in America inspired the new beauty products and served as a model for the reproductions. In Fredericksburg, Virginia, stands the historic Mercer apothecary shop now a national shrine maintained by the American Pharmaceutical Association. The shop was established about 1764 by Dr. Hugh Mercer, who later became General Mercer of the Continental Army. One of the first things that attract the eye of the visitor to the shop is the display of hand-painted apothecary jars in which was kept the powders and pomatums of the 18th century beauties. In the new line, called "Attar of Petals," the old jars have been reproduced faithfully, each individually hand painted, with no two exactly alike. The "Attar of Petals" fragrance makes its debut in cologne, toilet water, bath essence and "triple essence" almost as highly scented as perfume. There are creams and powders, "porpouri sachets" and soaps, bubble bath and even perfumed rose petals, which again are reminiscent of the pleasant odors in a dusty, spicy old apothecary shop.

After their fragrant contents are exhausted, the jars and bottles can be used over and over again in many ways that will brighten any household, and of course in these times when conservation is uppermost in every mind, it seems doubly practical to be able to put them to such varied uses. In the bathroom they can hold dentifrice or witchazel, in the kitchen, oil, vinegar, jam, spices or condiments, or about the house as cigarette boxes, lamp bases, or ornaments for the "whatnot" cabinet. Their beauty will appeal to all.

First of Series of Monthly Meetings For Selectees Held

Three important phases of health—physical, mental and spiritual—were discussed last night at the first of a series of monthly meetings for Selective Service men sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. and held in the "Y" building. Thirty members of the group scheduled to go to Erie Thursday of this week for their final examinations attended the meeting which was set up to help selectees prepare themselves for the experiences ahead of them in the armed forces.

After a few words of welcome on behalf of the Y. M. C. A., General Secretary Ralph H. Wagner, who presided, presented Rev. H. A. Rind, former army chaplain, who spoke on the spiritual phases of the adjustment which men must make as they enter the service. The second of the presentations was given by Dr. Leonard Rosenzweig, who very ably told of ways in which men can avoid mental disturbance and unhappiness as they enter into military life. He also helped the men prepare mentally for their final examinations at Erie.

Girl Scouts To Learn Songs To Sing During Dimout Tests

All adults in Girl Scouting in Warren county are included in the membership of Troop 100 which will meet at the YWCA activities building at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The main feature of the program will be instruction by Carroll Fowler in leading and teaching of songs. An effort is being made to teach to Girl Scouts about 20 of the better known songs so that the girls will be able to start and lead group singing anywhere that people come together as in a blackout or air raid drill.

Songs to be used are contained in a booklet entitled "Let's Sing the Same Songs" published by the National Recreation Association. Many Girl Scout troops purchased the books early in the fall and they are well on the way to learning the 20 songs.

Mr. Fowler's part of the program will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. and will be followed by discussion vital to every Girl Scout adult in the county. Standards for approved Girl Scout and Brownie Scout troops will be considered, with the idea of formulating basic requirements for the establishment of new troops and the continuance of existing troops.

The purpose of setting up such a standard is to make a foundation upon which new troops may be started and going troops enlarged to include more girls as has been requested by President Roosevelt.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Boy Wins Distinguished Flying Cross

ROBERT LOUIS RIZON, test pilot of Pittsburgh, a flying officer in the Royal Canadian Air Force, whose wife, Mrs. R. L. Rizon, lives in Brentwood, B.C., was recently awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross. His citation reads: "On 2-11-41, while taking off in a Stinson, on an instructional flight, his port engine burst into flames. He stopped his take-off and had the fire extinguisher pulled. This did not have any appreciable effect on the fire. He ordered his crew to abandon the aircraft which was done with the exception of one man who, in the excitement, could not find his life-saving jacket (which was still in the aircraft) and could not swim. Flying Officer Rizon and LAC Hunt then climbed back aboard. By this time the port upper and lower wings were afloat. Flying Officer Rizon stood behind the port engine and under the main fuel tanks, which were engulfed in flames and finally succeeded in putting the fire out with the extinguishers and buckets of sea water. Flying Officer Rizon showed complete disregard for personal safety. His action saved the aircraft from complete destruction and also possible loss of life of some members of his crew."
